1. Welcome to ANUST

Welcome to Al-Noor University of Science & Technology (ANUST). This handbook is designed to orient new and continuing students to the academic policies, campus facilities, and behavioral expectations that govern life on campus. Every student is responsible for reading and understanding the contents of this handbook. Ignorance of a policy stated herein will not be accepted as grounds for an exception or appeal.

ANUST was established in 1998 and is chartered by the Higher Education Commission (HEC) of Pakistan. The University currently enrolls approximately 11,400 students across seven faculties: Computing, Engineering, Management Sciences, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, Law, and Pharmacy.

1.1 Mission and Vision

Vision: To be a nationally recognized center of academic excellence, innovation, and ethical leadership.

Mission: To provide affordable, high-quality higher education that equips graduates with the technical competence, critical thinking ability, and professional integrity required to serve Pakistan and the global community.

2. Student Code of Conduct

All students are expected to conduct themselves with honesty, respect, and civility in every interaction with faculty, staff, fellow students, and visitors. The following are classified as major violations of the Code of Conduct and may result in disciplinary action ranging from a written warning to permanent expulsion:

- Academic dishonesty, including plagiarism, cheating, and contract cheating (see Examination Rules).
- Harassment, bullying, or discrimination on the basis of gender, religion, ethnicity, or disability.
- Possession or use of narcotics, alcohol, or weapons on university premises.
- Damage to university property, including laboratory equipment and library materials.
- Unauthorized use of the university's name, logo, or seal in any publication or event.
- Political activity or canvassing inside classrooms, laboratories, or the library.

2.1 Disciplinary Procedure

Complaints against a student are first reviewed by the Discipline Committee of the relevant faculty. The committee may issue a verbal warning, a written warning, a fine, suspension for up to one semester, or a recommendation of expulsion to the Vice Chancellor. A student has the right to submit a written response within five working days of being notified of a complaint.

3. Attendance Policy

Students must maintain a minimum of 80% attendance in each registered course to be eligible to sit the final examination. Attendance is recorded at the start of every lecture, laboratory, and tutorial session. The table below summarizes attendance thresholds and their consequences.

Attendance Range	Status	Consequence
90% – 100%	Excellent	No action; eligible for attendance-based commendation
80% – 89%	Satisfactory	Eligible to sit final examination
70% – 79%	Marginal	Requires Dean's approval to sit final examination
Below 70%	Deficient	Barred from final examination; grade recorded as 'W' (Withheld)

Allocation is on a first-come, first-served basis for students residing more than 60 km from campus, with priority given to students on financial aid. Hostel rules include a curfew of 10:00 PM on weekdays and 11:30 PM on weekends, mandatory biometric check-in, and a strict no-guest policy in residential wings.

4.3 Health and Counseling Services

The Student Health Center is open Monday to Saturday, 8:00 AM to 8:00 PM, and provides free basic consultation, first aid, and referrals to the affiliated Shifa Teaching Hospital. The Counseling and Wellness Office offers confidential one-on-one sessions with licensed counselors, bookable through the student portal, at no charge to enrolled students.

4.4 IT and Network Services

Every student is issued a university email account (firstname.lastname@anust.edu.pk) and access to the Learning Management System (LMS), campus Wi-Fi, and the student self-service portal. Sharing login credentials or attempting to bypass network access controls is a disciplinary offense.

5. Student Organizations and Societies

ANUST recognizes 24 student societies covering technical, cultural, sports, and community-service domains. All societies must be registered with the Directorate of Student Affairs (DSA) and re-apply for recognition annually. Selected societies include:

Society	Faculty/Domain	Flagship Event
ANUST Computing Society (ACS)	Computing	CodeStorm Hackathon
IEEE Student Branch	Engineering	TechXpo
Debating and Literary Society	General	Inter-University Debate Cup

6. Grievance Redressal

Students who wish to raise a grievance regarding faculty conduct, grading disputes, harassment, or facility issues may submit a written complaint to the Office of the Ombudsperson. Complaints are acknowledged within three working days and resolved within 20 working days wherever possible. Anonymous complaints regarding harassment are accepted through the Anti-Harassment Committee's confidential portal.

6.1 Anti-Harassment Committee

In compliance with the Protection Against Harassment of Women at the Workplace Act, 2010, ANUST maintains a standing Anti-Harassment Committee composed of three faculty members and two student representatives (one from each gender). Inquiries are conducted in strict confidentiality, and retaliation against a complainant is itself grounds for disciplinary action.

7. Dress Code

Students are expected to dress modestly and appropriately for an academic environment. Sleeveless shirts, ripped jeans above the knee, and flip-flops are discouraged in classrooms and administrative offices. Faculty-specific dress codes (e.g., closed-toe shoes in engineering laboratories, lab coats in pharmacy laboratories) take precedence and must be followed for safety reasons.

8. Emergency Procedures

In case of fire, medical emergency, or security threat, students should proceed immediately to the nearest designated assembly point (marked on floor plans posted in every building) and contact Campus Security at the numbers below.
